SHOCKED BY LIGHTNING.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGovern Rendered Senseless for 30 Minutes.

TOOK REFUGE IN BARN.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. John McGovern, of Victoria, were shocked by lightning, while seeking refuge in a barn. They were enroute to 'quire T. N. Bates, when the storm came up about 1 p. m. They went into a barn for protection. As soon as they had entered the house was struck by lightning. Both fell senseless to the ground. Mr. McGovern falling face downward upon the seat of an old hay rake, severely cutting and bruising himself about the face. Both were unconscious for twenty or thirty minutes. After a hard effort Mrs. McGovern was able to partly regain herself. She found the face of her husband covered with blood and badly cut up, he being still unconscious. She wiped the blood from her husband's face and then crawled to the house, sixty yards distance to get aid.

While Mrs. McGovern was away, Mr. McGovern became conscious. His brothers, on their way from church, heard him and went to his aid.

Dr. Howard, of Mattingly, dressed Mr. McGovern's wounds which are very painful but not serious.

My Hair Ran Away!

Don't have a falling out with your hair. It might leave you! Then what? That would mean thin, scraggly, uneven, rough hair. Keep your hair at home! Fasten it tightly to your scalp! You can easily do it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is something more than a simple hair dressing. It is a hair medicine, a hair tonic, a hair food.

The best kind of a testimonial—

ARRESTED HERE.

Star Witness in Owensboro Murder Case Arrested Here.

TAKEN TO OWENSBORO.

Elliot Berry, a negro star witness in an Owensboro double murder case, was arrested here Saturday by marshal DeHaven. He was taken to Owensboro Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff Ollie and Harold Haynes, of Owensboro. Berry came here Wednesday morning on the 5 o'clock train. He claims the Policeman Peacock paid him $4 the night before to go to Louisville. Berry has a cousin here and stopped off to see him.

Berry was at Bill Hunter's, a negro saloon in Owensboro last Monday a week when two negroes were killed over a dispute about gambling. Hunter is said to be worth $50,000. It is claimed he put up $500 to get all witnesses to the killing out of Owensboro.

MEADE'S HOME.

COMING

Meade county's home-coming last Wednesday was a big success. Her absent children from the east and from the west, the north and south, were there to climb the old rocky hill and to quench their thirst at Butter-Milk Falls. Hon. D. W. Fairleigh, of Louisville, formerly of Brandenburg, made the principal address of the day. Other speeches were made by local citizens. Despite the rain there was a big crowd present.

OFFICER ROBBINS SHOT AT OWENSBORO.

Former Breckenridge Citizen

Shot by Negro-Trouble Is Brewing.

Owensboro Ky., June 25.—The negro who shot Officer W. H. Robbins has not yet been caught, but rumors are circling the country for him. The entire male population of both the city and country are indignant over the shooting. Citizens and farmers are searching for the fugitive with guns. The police of this city are making strenuous effort to capture the negro. None of the police is taking his hours off, but all are availing in squads into the country searching for the negro. He captured the indications are that Baskett, with other disorderly negroes, will be lynched. Baskett is one of the same negroes who helped kill Officer White ten years ago. Reports have come in from the country that the negro was seen going toward the river, heavily armed. When last seen he carried one shot gun, a Winchester rifle and revolver.

He started to relatives with whom he stopped to get his wounded arm dressed that he would not be taken alive. Sunday night he went into a drug store at Steady and bought some medicine for his arm. The druggist was afraid to arrest him. The feeling is as hot today as it was Sunday, and large crowds are gathering on the street corners discussing the shooting in heated tones.

There is report that the negroes will try to protect Baskett in case he is brought back. If they do riot will be the result.

Officer Robbins, who was shot, is resting easy today. The doctor says that it will be necessary to amputate his arm. The wound in the side is not likely to prove fatal.

Trying To Make It

A Blue Law.

Magistrate Hoffman, of Louisville, is trying to make a blue law out of the Sunday closing law. The square is issuing warrants right and left against drug store proprietors who keep their stores open on Sunday, and Hoffman says he will go after the church choir boys, conchmen, newspapers and any others whom he deems Sunday law breakers.

Gov. Beckham, however, will intervene and, in case any one is convicted ungraciously, will pardon them. It is stated that if Magistrate Hoffman carries out his plans, the real purpose of the Sunday closing law will be defeated, and the good already done will be overthrown.

Mrs. Nathan Roberts and daughter, Mary, and son, McKinley, and Miss Lillie Baird went to Stephensport Saturday to visit Mr. Jacob Hanks.

SEVERS DRUG CO.

Buys Out Short & Haynes and will Operate the Business.

MR. HAYNES GOING WEST.

After fifteen years of successful drug business in Cloverport, Short & Haynes have sold out to the Severs Drug Co., composed of Mr. D. H. Severs and son, J. Byrne. Mr. Haynes will join G. W. Short in Durant and connect himself with the Durant Drug Co.

The new firm will doubtless be a popular one. D. H. Severs is known in every nook of Breckenridge county and liked well where ever he is known. His capacity as a thorough and reliable business man is unquestioned. The younger partner of the firm, J. Byrne Severs, is a registered pharmacist, and a young man of much practical experience in the drug business. He served under Short & Haynes for several years, then entered the Louisville college of Pharmacy. After his graduation year he returned to the college and took a year of special higher work in the science of medicine. Since leaving school Severs has worked for large pharmacies in Louisville, Ky., and Pine Bluff, Ark., and later served in the capacity of traveling salesman for Kalamazoo & Haynes, Owensboro, wholesale druggists.

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This.

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Buehling, 201 West Third St., Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing upon me for twelve years, and I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering." Sold by A. R. Finer.

Miss Clara Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fladger Carter, graduated last week from Sacred Heart Academy near Louisville with distinguished honors.

ST. ROMUALD'S

COMMENCEMENT.

Hardinsburg, Ky., June 26.—The Third Annual Commencement of St. Romuald's Academy was held at the Opera House Thursday evening. The audience overflowed the building and standing room was at a premium. Master Francis Dillon delivered the valedictory in a graceful manner. Harry Hobbs was the valedictorian, and his address was especially good. Judge Henry Moorman made an appropriate address to the school upon the invitation of the Rev. Wm. L. Galt. All the exercises showed careful training, and this was the most successful year of the Academy.

Stenographers Wanted.

There is a great demand for competent stenographers. You can secure a good position by attending the Bowling Green Business University, Bowling Green, Ky. Address as above for catalog and particulars.

"Cut Loose And Build The Canal."

Washington, June 21.—"Cut loose now and build the canal. The American people want results on the isthmus as soon as they can be obtained, and I want them Dig, dig. Congress and the people are behind us in our efforts."

Within forty-eight hours after the completion of the Panama canal legislation President Roosevelt issued in effect the above order to Chairman Shonts and Chief Engineer Stevens.

The President expressed both his great gratification at the action of the United States Senate in supporting his plan for the construction of a lock canal. He has been continued for several days that the lock type of canal would be adopted by the Senate on its final vote, notwithstanding the report of the majority of the Inter-oceanic Canal Committee in favor of a sea level waterway.

A careful canvass of the Senate was made and he was assured that there would be a safe majority in favor of the lock type, which he has advocated ever since the report of the engineers' commission was received.

Two days ago the President signed a majority of five in favor of the lock type and that of precisely the majority received in the test vote.

WEDNESDAY JUNE 27, 1906

For Congress.

HON. BEN JOHNSON

Our friend, Mr. Dodson of Fyrmire, is under a very strong impression as to the standing of Ben Johnson on the whisky question. Mr. Dodson, while accusing Johnson of being a whisky man, may in his own light be sincere in his charges, but we regret to say that Mr. Dodson knows not whereof he speaks when he accuses Ben Johnson of standing for or supporting the interests of whisky. It is true that Johnson tried to defeat the general assembly tax passed by the last General Assembly but he did this not because he favored the whisky man, not because he desired to promote the traffic in anyway but because he saw nothing in the rectifier's tax but to lose the state. The question of temperance did not come up on either side in the consideration of the rectifier's tax. It was purely a matter of revenue for the state. Those who tarred the tax thought, no doubt, that men would fall to the state by levying a rectifier's tax the old way, those who opposed the tax believed the old way the better source of revenue. The moving of several large rectifiers from Kentucky justified Mr. Johnson in his stand. Ben Johnson stood for the county Unit bill and for the bill prohibiting the shipment of whiskey into local option districts is evidence of his views about the liquor business. As for himself he has voted for local option all of his life and has never taken a drink of whisky. In view of these things it seems to us it would be better for Mr. Dodson to uphold Ben Johnson rather than try to down him on a pretense of Johnson being in league with the whisky interests.

Our correspondents will please favor us by mailing their letters so that they will reach this office next Monday morning. We want to take the Fourth off.

How to Break Up a Cold.
It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, loud cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose and a thin white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's cough remedy is taken every hour on the first of these symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. For sale by Short & Haynes.

CLEVER LADY NAVIGATOR.

MRS. ROSE WATKINS GRANT.
—ED PILOT'S LICENSE ON ILLINOIS RIVER.

A Model Housekeeper and Expert Cook—Assists in Painting Engines of Steamer—Husband is Engineer of Boat of Which She is Pilot.

In the early spring of this year when the steamboat inspectors began their examinations at Chicago of the various applicants for license to handle steamers on the Illinois River, they were somewhat startled over the appearance of Mrs. Rose E. Watkins in the class, and only after a most thorough test as to her ability to handle a steamer was she issued a license.

Mrs. Watkins is the wife of Captain George T. Watkins and they own the boat with which they navigate the waters of the Illinois. For the last eight years Mrs. Watkins has made her home on her husband's boats. Their home was originally at Peoria, where Mrs. Watkins spent her girlhood days and before her marriage to Captain Watkins had taught school.

EXPERT IN RIVER NAVIGATION.

For the last four years they have put in the summer conducting an excursion business between Chicago and the scenic points down the Illinois River, including Starved Rock and the rapids and canyons surrounding it. Mrs. Watkins has been for years an expert in navigating these waters, but not until this spring did she formally apply for a pilot's license. While classed as a navigable stream, it has generally been regarded that the navigation of the Illinois ended at La Salle, but in spite of this, the Watkins and one or two smaller craft have been regularly plying the upper reaches of the river. Last winter the steamboat men were notified that the boats on this section would have to comply with all the government regulations to carry regularly licensed pilots and engineers.

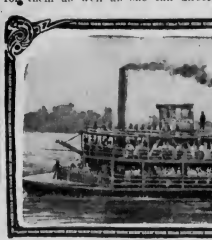

A few weeks later Inspector Mansfield and look came to Ottawa to inspect the Watkins. Since Mrs. Watkins has secured her pilot's license there have been all sorts of stories in circulation as to that inspection. One romance reads that the inspectors found her seated at a table in the pilot house poring over a chart looking up the beautiful scenery recently discovered rock. It is a pity to spoil such a beautiful romance, but these are the hard, unromantic facts of the case. The pilot house of the Watkins is too small to hold a table and Mrs. Watkins is much too busy to pore over a chart at this season of the year. Then the only really dangerous "snag" in the river at Starved Rock is the inspection fee which the corporation that owns it charges before the sightseer and its tributaries. Mrs. Watkins is a modest and refined woman who is not given to boasting of her exploits along lines into which women seldom venture. But she takes a pardonable degree of pride in the fact that she is not an amateur pilot but is the real thing in that line.

DISPLAYS UNCOMMON ABILITY.

When the excursion season closes the Watkins not infrequently seek other business in the late fall and early spring on the lower reaches of the river and it is while engaged in the work that Mrs. Watkins has the opportunity to display her real ability as a navigator. She has brought the boat up the river in all conditions of wind and current and that, too, when it was handling a great heavy piled high with props for the Spring Valley mills or with great walnut logs for a plane factory at Chicago.

As to her ability to handle a crew of deck hands there is a determining glint in her eye which indicates that she can do that also, and she can cook for them as well as she can direct their labors on board. There is nothing manifold or strenuous or new-wash about this lady master of the steamer Watkins—she is a model housekeeper and is household guardian angel for all the crew who dwell upon the boat. This is the plain story of a good woman, refined, pleasant and energetic, who does the work that comes to her thoroughly and who is surprised that her ability to handle a fair-sized fresh water craft should have attracted the attention that it undoubtedly has.

Interstate Commerce Commission.

An opinion at one time prevailed that the members of the interstate commerce commission had an easy time. A place on the board was characterized in the slang of the day as a "soft snap." However, this may once have been, it is not true now. The dispatches show that not only is

CONGRESSMEN ARRESTED.

TWO DOZEN OF THEM GATHERED IN AT BASEBALL GAME BY OFFICIAL OF HOUSE.

President's Son-in-Law Among Those Corralled by Sergeant-at-Arms—Trouble Caused by Minority Leader Williams.

That the members of Congress are fond of a ball game was evidenced a few days ago when a call of the House to order to obtain a quorum of the members—caused the Sergeant-at-Arms of that body to send out his deputies to arrest whatever members his squad could corral. Twenty-two Congressmen were gathered up from the grandstand and bleachers of the Washington Baseball Club, Mr. Nicholas Longworth and his wife being brought in from the President's box.

It was a delightful spring afternoon and the House was droning along through its business, with John Sharp the attempt. The scheme cuts adrift absolutely from all other of the time-honored methods of traveling over the eternal ice of the Arctic zone. Mr. Wellman is no novice in arctic travel, as he has already made one attempt for the Pole, in the old fashioned way.

From St. Petersburg, Wellman, together with Maj. Henry B. Hersey, representing the United States Weather Bureau, and M. J. Smith, a wireless operator, will start in the biggest airship ever constructed on the 100-mile journey toward the goal of so many men's desires. If the airship works and the winds remain true to the analysis of them made by the Naamen expedition, the thing is done. The North Pole is a terribly illusive sort of notoriety, and a thousand unforeseen calamities may be ready to journey upon Walter Wellman and his plucky associates. Yet the quest is not an absolutely forlorn hope. To the American newspaper man may yet be given the honor of locating the North Pole, just as to a British newspaper man was given the glory of cutting Africa in two.

The Princess' Bridal Dress.

Princess Ena's wedding dress attracted great interest in Spain, as it is truly a Spanish picture in fabric and finish, except for the wonderful Brussels lace, which was brought to adorn it. It was a fancy of the king and of the Queen-mother that the wedding dress should be made in Spain, and the Princess Ena graciously fell in with this patriotic sentiment.

The dress is, therefore, one of the special presents from the king and is a marvel of elegance. The silk was manufactured from a special pattern in one of the large Spanish silk establishments. It was made up with all the artistic skill of the court dressmakers. The silk is heavily covered with wonderful silver embroidery. Made in the Brussels lace, said to have cost $50 a yard. The lace was publicly exhibited in the city of Brussels, and excited the admiration and astonishment of even the aristocratic circles. Made in the Brussels lace, were profusely used with the silver embroidery and lace for the corsage.

The officers rounded up stray members from all parts of the grounds, and in the executive box found the regular bridge-players from Ohio with his wife. They are both lovers of the game, as well as otherwise, and the nature of the situation was showing down on them. But they could not resist or argue with constituted authority. They gave parole to proceed at once to the Capitol. They had come in Mrs. Longworth's pretty automobile, and on the return trip they took with their Representative (Gaines of West Virginia).

Representative Shiley, of Pennsylvania, with a party of eight members, also went back to the Capitol in an automobile and on the way was held up by a bicycle policeman for exceeding the speed regulations, but when the situation was explained he let them pass. They were allowed to proceed. A few moments later the auto party was filling in at the door of the chamber, and on the way was awaiting them. They marched in, voted, turned on their heels and went straight to the machine. Before the authorities could get busy they were again speeding toward the ball park.

HOUSES WERE TOO SLOW.

A number of the statesmen who were hustled back to the Capitol in carriages were not so fortunate as the Shiley party. They arrived so late that it wasn't worth while to return to the ball park.

A number of the trustees are dyed-in-the-wool fans, some making rubber but not daily excursions to the ball park, while others can afford to be seen in the affairs of state every day to visit a game. On the occasion of their arrest, a number had made their first visit to see the ball thrown around. Before the House was called to order the next day the delinquents gathered about to hold a consultation meeting.

"It was too bad that we had to leave just when there was so much for Washington to tie the score, with three men on base," wailed Representative Shiley, of New York, chairman of the Republican Congressional campaign committee.

"Oh, go," said Congressman McKim, of Illinois, "our Chicago team is too strong for the Nationals. Their pitcher struck out the next two men, leaving your three still hanging on their bases."

"Of course it was up to that California recruit on the home team to make the star start of the day," added Representative McKim, who hails from Santa Rosa, Cal.

Others in the gathering seemed to leave Representative Shiley for coaxing them to leave the House for a ball game, as they considered it a blackeye for them to be caught away from their post of duty.

Among the few whom the Sergeant-at-Arms had gathered in were Representatives Lord of Michigan; Conaway of Iowa; Thomas of Ohio; Dunwell of New York and Burleigh, of Maine. Representative Rodenburg of Illinois was out at the park, but seems to have been the sole trunk who escaped the officers and was permitted to see the game through.

Wellman and the Pole.

As the time draws near for Walter Wellman, the newspaper correspondent, to make his proposed dash for the North Pole by means of an airship, the world at large is waking up to the vast daring and importance of

CHAPTER II.

Though it was an autumn evening and somewhat warm, a huge fire of beaped billets of wood crackled and sparkled in a broad open grate, some of the smoke escaping up a rude chimney, but the greater part rolling out into the room, so that the air was thick with it, and a man coming from without could scarce catch his breath.

On this fine a great calico bubble and shimmered, giving forth a rich and promising smell. Seated round it were a dozen or so folk of all ages and conditions, who set up such a shout as Alysene entered that he stood peering at them through the house, uncertain what this evening might portend.

"A rouse! A rouse!" cried one rough-looking fellow in a tattered jerkin. "One more round of wine or ale, and the score be the last corner."

"It's the law of the Red Merin!" shouted another. "Ho, there, Dame Blaise! Here is fresh custom come to

to remain scattered about in the house, and not a dream for the company."

"I will take your orders, gentle; I will assuredly take your orders," the landlady answered, hustling in with her hands full of leather drinking cups. "What is it that you drink, then? Beer for the lads of the forest, and heavy wine for the folk of the tinker, and wine for the rest. It is an old custom of the house, young men, to have the law of the Red Merin this may a year lack that the company should drink to the health of the last corner. Is it your pleasure to humor it?"

"Why, good dame," said Alysene, "I would not offend the customs of your house, but it is only such when I say that my purse is a thin one. As far as two pence will go, however, I shall be right glad to do my part."

"Faintly said, and bravely spoken my suckling friar, roared a deep voice, and a heavy fall fell upon Alysene's shoulder. Looking up, he saw beside him his former client companion, the reclusive monk, Floride John.

"By the thorn of Glastonbury! Ill days are coming upon you, Floride, said he. "Here they have got rid in one day of the only two men within their walls—for I have had mine eyes upon thee, youngster, and I know that for all thy bafe there is the making of a man in thee."

While he was speaking the landlady came again, bearing a tray of water upon which stood all the beakers and flagons charged to the brim with the red ale or the heavy wine. Behind her came a maid with a high pile of wooden plates, and a great sheet of spoons, one of which she laid around the table, and the other she handed to the company, who were dressed in the weather-stained green doublet of red-

to remain scattered about in the house, and not a dream for the company."

"Or 'St. Simon and the Devil.' " "Or the 'Jest of Hedy Tobias.' " "To all these suggestions the young man made no response, but sat with his eyes fixed attractively upon the ceiling, as one who calls words to his mind, and with a sudden sweep across the strings, he broke out into a song so gross and so full that ere he had finished the verse the pure-minded lad sprang to his feet with the blood tingling in his face.

"How can you sing such things?" he cried. "You, too, an old man who should be an example to others."

The wayfarers all gazed in the utmost astonishment at the interruption. "By the holy Dion of Hammo! our silent clerk has found his tongue," said one of the woodmen.

"And with the song, then? How has it offended your babyship?" "A milder and better-mannered song hath never been heard within these is permitted to set foot on the shore that beautiful and historic spot. The plain facts in the case are that when the inspectors made their official visit to the boat Mrs. Watkins was engaged in painting the engine. During the winter months the two Captains Watkins were engaged in overhauling and renovating their boat—small task when one remembers that the boat can carry 600 passengers on its two decks. As a result of the examination which they recently underwent at Chicago, Captain George Watkins holds an engineer's and a master's license, while his wife holds a license as master and pilot which entitles her to pilot any craft up to 100 tons burden upon the waters of the Illinois

Its inquiries into the methods of the railroads interested in coal, and into the practices of the Standard Oil Company in absorbing or freeing out opposition, are in the highest degree valuable to the public and should lead to the redressing of many abuses. "Naive" Questions.
Mrs. Alexander, the novelist, lives in Florence. There a young American woman recently interviewed her. "Mrs. Alexander was delightful," said the young woman. "She amused me very much. I, too, amused her—she thought me naive."

"Once, when I asked her a certain question about the artistic side of novel-writing, she declared that my question was as naive as that of a little Florentine child that she had heard about the day before."

"This child, at dinner with her parents, turned to her mother and said, 'Mamma, where were you born?' 'At Padua, darling.' 'But I was born in Florence, wasn't I?' 'Yes, dear.' 'And father, where was he born?' 'In Venice.' 'The little girl looked gravely from one to the other.' 'Isn't it funny,' she said, 'that we should all have met like this?'"

Her Innate Diplomacy.

Patient to Pretty Nurse—"Will you be my wife when I recover?" "Pretty Nurse—"Certainly."

Patient—"Then you love me? Ah, me!" "Pretty Nurse—"Oh, no; that's merely a part of the treatment. I must keep my patients cheerful! I promised you that I would run away with a married man who had lost both his legs."

Three Physicians Treated Him
W. Hout Success.

W. L. Yancy, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians in Kentucky treated me without success. I then took Foley's Kidney Cure. The first bottle gave immediate relief, and three bottles cured me permanently. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy. Sold by A. R. Hanes."

SWEEPING OPINION.

License Required to Sell Cheese,
Crackers, Sausage, Etc., Says
Attorney General.

County Clerk F. G. Corley has just received a letter from N. B. Hays, Attorney General of the state, holding that a license is necessary for merchants to sell eatables in the form of lunches. The letter is in the following language: "We are of opinion that any one who sells cheese, crackers, sausages, and the like to the public as eatables or as meals within the provisions of the law as one keeping a restaurant, and is liable for the tax provided under the revenue law. We are also of opinion that a license to sell soft drinks is only for the county in which such license is issued and not elsewhere. The opinion is sweeping in its nature, and will affect numerous merchants over the country who sell cheese, crackers, etc., to be eaten as lunches."

The license fee is $5 plus $10, the clerk's cost of issuing.

Following the Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant U. S. A., of Rural Route 2, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchitis, troubles and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at Short & Hanes druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. # KENTUCKIANS!

"To the Memory of Lincoln"

Kentucky is to lead the way in rolling up a membership for the Lincoln Farm Association. The old farm on which Abraham Lincoln was born, and where he spent the early years of his boyhood, at Hodgenville, this State, is to be made into a great Lincoln National Park.

It is to be a great work of the whole people. Every man, woman and child in Kentucky is asked to join the Association and help make up the fund needed.

Send in ANY amount, from 25 cents to $25, and you will be made an Honorary Member without further dues or assessments whatever. The Association will send you a large, handsomely engraved Certificate, and your name will be put in the Permanent Catalogue to be kept in a place of honor at the Park forever.

Use the coupon below, and send your subscription to the office of the BRECKENRIDGE NEWS. Let every loyal Kentuckian join NOW and show the nation that Kentucky still leads in patriotism and loyalty to her great man.

Object of the Lincoln Farm Association.

This is a patriotic Association of the citizens of the United States, formed to develop the Lincoln Birthplace Farm at Hodgenville, Kentucky, into a permanent Lincoln National Park—a Park of Patriotism. When finished the Park will be the finest Historical Memorial in the country, and will stand forever as a source of pride to the State of Kentucky and the entire nation. In order that this Park may be the work of the whole people, the funds to complete it are to be subscribed only in small sums, from 25 cents to $25—every subscriber becoming an Honorary Member, and his or her name to be entered in the Permanent Catalogue to be kept in a place of honor at the Park. An Honorary Certificate will be issued to every subscriber, and no further dues of any kind will ever be required or collected.

ROUTE OF NEW RAILROAD.

Since the letting of the contract for the construction of the Hendersonville, Hartford & Eastern railroad, considerable curiosity has been aroused as to the exact route of the new road. The following from the Hartford Herald of Wednesday gives the desired information:

Starting at Madisonville the road will pass near Anton, in Hopkins county. It will pass between Sacramento and Bremen in Maublenburg county, coming within about a mile of the latter place. It will cross the U. & N. railroad at Hendricks and Green river at Smallhouse. From Centertown it will come on to Hartford. The Hartford depot will be located, it is said, in the southeast end of Liberty street, and near what is known as the Masonic residence. It will be a handsome edifice.

Going east the road will cross the Heaver Dam road near G. W. Hanger's country within a few feet of a corner of his shop. It will take a north-easterly direction at Hartford, passing to the right of the old water mill. The first stop after leaving Hartford will be Springfield. From there it will go to Dundee, where it will cross Rough river. Leaving Dundee it will go to Mitchell's where it will join the L. H. & St. L. commonly known as the "Texas" road. The entire distance of the road will be fifty-five and a half miles. Nine passenger stations will be erected at the different stopping places, and the best of work will be required in its construction. It will be of great benefit to the section of country which it passes, and to Hartford, whose people have wanted a railroad so long.

The Size of the Army.

Louisville, Ky., June 10th.
Friend Street—
During the "Home-Coming" I heard several persons asking as to the size of the Drill Hall of the Army. I have made inquiry of the architect, who says the building centre is 301 by 666½ feet and the Drill Hall is 300 by 372 feet. Probably this may be of interest to your readers, who were here and inside the building.

Respectfully,

Farmers Sell Wheat.

Boonville, Ind.,—The wheat belonging to the farmers of the American Society of Equity has been sold. The farmers began to haul it in although not a word had been given out that it had been sold. Later it leaked out the Ballard & Ballard, of Louisville, Ky., were the purchasers, it being bought for them by Robert Richards, of the Hardy & company firm at Rockport. Garley Taylor, a prominent farmer living near Boonville, made the deal, but when asked the rice per bushel, he refused to answer. It is said that he received about 80 cents per bushel. Taylor is general superintendent and corresponding secretary of the society.

Possibilities of Dry Farming.

From John L. Cowan's "Dry Farming—the Hope of the West" in the July Century.

Estimates of the amount of land that can be reclaimed by irrigation vary all the way from 90,000,000 acres up to 135,000,000 acres, with the weight of authoritative opinion decidedly favoring the lower figure. Yet if 1 per cent. of the money now being expended for irrigation works were made available for the education of the people who ought to be interested in dry farming, it is probable that five hundred million acres of land—perhaps more than that—could be reclaimed from its present unproductive and comparatively worthless state just as rapidly as settlers, whether native born, or immigrants from foreign countries, could be taken to it.

SAUNDERS-

BRUMFIELD.

On June 10, Mr. Hewitt Brumfield and Miss Nora Saunders were quietly married at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Lewis near Stephensburg, Ky., by Rev. M. W. Whayne of Arkansas.

Miss Saunders was one of Meade County's most accomplished young ladies. Mr. Brumfield is a prosperous young farmer of Breckinridge county. Only a few relatives and friends were present. The bride wore a beautiful white silk mill dress. The groom wore the conventional black. The bride's maid, Miss Bessie Hart, wore a lovely pink silk mill dress. The best man, Mr. John Hoover, was stylishly dressed in gray. The young couple received many beautiful and useful presents. They will make their home in Breckinridge county. May God's richest blessings attend them through life.

Thomson's annually bear witness to the efficiency of Early Risers. These pleasant, reliable little pills have long borne a reputation second to none as a laxative and cathartic. They are as staple as bread in millions of homes. Pleasant but effective. Will promptly relieve constipation without griping. Sold by all druggists.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

MR. F. BROCKMAN
WIFE AND CHILD

MRS. J. C. STERLING'S
CHILDREN

G. H.
FARMER
and SON

Pe-ru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Pe-ru-na should be kept in the home all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Pe-ru-na on hand—accept no substitutes.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Pe-ru-na has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Pe-ru-na, if taken according to printed directions, is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. It does not produce temporary results, but it is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

Mrs. F. Brockman, 618 Meade street, Appleton, Wis., writes:
"I have never had a return of the catarrh, which had made me so miserable and unhappy before I began taking Pe-ru-na."
"I could not be without it in the house, now."
"I have a baby boy, two years old, to whom I give Pe-ru-na for a cold, and my husband also takes Pe-ru-na."
"I thank you and wish you well."—Mrs. F. Brockman.

No Doctor Required.
Mr. Edward Otto, 227 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:
"I cannot say enough for Pe-ru-na. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctor'd with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good."
"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pushed him through on Pe-ru-na."
"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him, so we tried Pe-ru-na as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

There are a multitude of homes where Pe-ru-na has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Pe-ru-na contained any narcotic.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Pe-ru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Pe-ru-na, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blasting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Pe-ru-na are speaking from their experience.

These children brought up to believe in Pe-ru-na from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Pe-ru-na with unquestioning faith.

A Child's Life Saved.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:
"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong."

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Pe-ru-na, and we shall always praise Pe-ru-na and use it in our family when needed."

"Should we have any more catarrhal troubles in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."—G. H. Farmer.

Medical Advice.

For free medical advice, address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio. All correspondence held strictly confidential.

Mrs. J. C. Sterling, 128 Brown Avenue, Norfolk, Va., writes:

"My little boy, Meredith, suffered with indigestion so badly he could not eat anything without it making him very sick, so I thought (as many others have) that I would try Pe-ru-na, and it worked like a charm."

"Now he eats anything he wishes, and I would not be without it for anything."

"My other little boy, Alfred, two and a half years old, has taken it and received as much benefit from Pe-ru-na as his brother."

"I hope my testimonial may be of some benefit to others, as I feel as though I cannot praise it enough."

—Mrs. J. C. Sterling.

Mr. Howard Andrew Sterner, Muddy Creek, Pa., writes:

"I have Pe-ru-na in my house all the time and won't be without it. It is good for children when they take a cold or croup. It cured my baby boy of croup."

"I have introduced Pe-ru-na into six families since I received your last letter, and four have seen relief already."

—Howard Andrew Sterner.

Pe-ru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Pe-ru-na is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of catarrh will be prevented.

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mother looks forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of her children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Pe-ru-na is the best friend she has in time of illness among the children.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Pe-ru-na is their stand-by, and that in many of the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Pe-ru-na is the remedy that will generally quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stom-ach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowen disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Pe-ru-na quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body. It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Every mother who has not tried Pe-ru-na in her family should familiarize herself with Dr. Hartman's booklet, The Ills of Life. This booklet should be in every family. It gives most valuable advice as to the use of Pe-ru-na for the various catarrhal diseases so general to-day.

Pe-ru-na is a household remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Pe-ru-na has.

The Mothers Hold Pe-ru-na in High Esteem.

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it promptly rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files many testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Pe-ru-na. However, a large majority of mothers who Pe-ru-na, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at the special good they have received from Pe-ru-na that they can't restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.
